

FEI Canada Privacy Policy

CFERF Privacy Policy

Privacy Policy

Financial Executives International (FEI) Canada and the Canadian Financial Executives Research Foundation (CFERF) are committed to respecting and protecting your personal privacy. As www.feicanada.org functions primarily for members, our website is divided into two major sections: that portion that is available to all visitors, and that portion that is designed for members only. CFERF currently shares the same website. All CFERF information is available to all visitors. CFERF does not have members.

There are a few instances where we do collect personally identifiable information. For instance, members are asked to provide their member number/ID in order to access "Members Only" portions of the site. Or, when registering for a conference or e-newsletter subscription, for example, a user (member or non-member) is asked to provide his or her name, e-mail, company name and some limited demographics of his/her industry. This information is submitted voluntarily.

Similar information may be submitted to FEI Canada and CFERF through membership applications, conference or teleconference registration, and magazine or e-newsletter subscriptions. Likewise, FEI Canada and CFERF does not disclose credit card account information provided by its members and customers, sponsors or donors. When members and customers, sponsors or donors choose to pay using their credit cards, FEI Canada and CFERF submits the information needed to obtain payment to the appropriate clearinghouse. We do not provide or sell credit card or other personally identifiable information to third parties. For the purposes of this privacy policy CFERF is not considered a third party.

FEI Canada and CFERF do not share the contact information of members and customers, sponsors or donors with any third party. FEI Canada and CFERF does on occasion employ the services of a mailing house under confidential contract to package and send mail by Canada Post to our members and other customers, sponsors and donors.

Members may view or update their current profile at <http://www.feicanada.org/account/default.cfm>. The FEI web site also contains links to other web sites. FEI Canada has no control over and is not responsible for the privacy policies or content of such sites. We recommend you read the privacy policy of each site you visit. If any visitor or member feels that their information has been handled improperly or in a manner that does not comply with this privacy policy, please contact us by emailing to feicanada@feicanada.org, or by calling (416) 366-3007.

About member directories

The member information contained on the FEI Canada website is intended for use only by FEI Canada members and CFERF. It is provided in order to facilitate networking among FEI Canada members. The website and its contents are the property of the Financial Executives International Canada and are not to be copied or distributed without the express written permission of an executive officer of FEI Canada. The contents of the www.feicanada.org are not to be used to solicit business or promote the business interests of any member or non-member.

Chapter officers and directors are periodically provided member and/or potential member lists. These lists are the confidential property of FEI Canada and are to be used solely for conducting FEI Canada chapter business.

If our privacy policies change, we will notify all users by a special announcement placed on our web site.